Dear Bornali Deka,

You have been the champion of the STEM for Girls Program by transforming the vision of enabling girls in government secondary schools to break barriers of accessing technology, enhance their agency and build 21st century skills to make informed career and life choices using STEM and coding into reality. Your positive attitude and hard working skills have contributed to creating learning experiences encouraging adolescents to become self aware, challenge gender norms, explore career possibilities for tens of thousands of girls across India.

In your own journey, we have seen you evolve as a person, discover facets of yourself, engage and expand your perspectives on self, and gender, enable adolescents to expand their horizons on who they can be and what they can become. Through your commitment and collaboration as a team has helped us achieve what we envisaged for our students and especially the girls in our state.
